Color Guide Disclaimer

Champion Thread Company is providing this Color Guide for your convenience.

This document is intended to serve as a general guide to thread colors, as variations in computer displays, printers and lighting conditions often cause colors to display or print differently than actual thread colors. We recommend you request physical thread samples for precise thread color matching purposes.

As the conditions of use and application are beyond our control and may vary greatly, Champion Thread Company can make no guarantee of results. All warranties expressed or implied are expressly disclaimed and we cannot assume the responsibility or liability for any consequential damages. It is the responsibility of the purchaser or user to ensure that the specific dye, size, type, etc. are suitable for the application or end use.
